 The free online training provided by the APSSDC would help them get employment in software sector, Madhusudan Reddy said and appealed to the faculty to improve their skills to prepare a better syllabus to make the students fare well in the competitive world.
 Prof Hemachandra Reddy said that there has been immense demand for sectors like artificial intelligence, machine learning, data science, cloud computing, big data and others. "The faculty of engineering colleges should improve their knowledge in these subjects," he said.
 He said that such development subjects like artificial intelligence, machine learning, data science, cloud computing, big data and others programmes would help the faculty at a time when the new courses like data science and cyber security are being introduced in B Tech from this academic year.

 Bharani Kumar said that 360 DigiTMG has come forward to join hands with the APSSDC to provide online training to the faculty and students.
 APSSDC technical director Dr Ravi Gujjula, Dr Srikanth and others also spoke.

UPSC allows Civils aspirants to change exam centres

 The candidates, who cannot get a centre of their choice due to ceiling, will be required to choose a centre from the remaining ones, it said. Originally, the civil services preliminary examination 2020 was scheduled to be held on May 31, but it had to be postponed to October 4, due to the coronavirus pandemic. The civil services examination is conducted annually in three stages - preliminary, main and interview -- by the UPSC to select officers for the Indian Administrative Service (IAS), the Indian Foreign Service (IFS) and the Indian Police Service (IPS), among others. Lakhs of aspirants take the examination every year to be part of the country's coveted civil services. The UPSC has also decided to make a 'withdrawal window' available to the candidates on the Commission's website during the period from 1st-8th August, 2020 to allow them to withdraw their application from the test, the statement said. All the terms and conditions of the withdrawal of application will be the same as have been mentioned in the examinations notice issued in February this year, it said. "Candidates must note that once the application has been withdrawn by the candidate, it cannot be revived in future under any circumstances," the statement added.
